Our conference participants united in their praise of Comic Vision – their conference critiques specifically lauded Tim's fresh and inventive message, unique delivery style and outstanding communicative skills.

Mr. Tim Gard has earned our trust and confidence over the last four years – many of us have seen him in action with absolutely total success before a wide range of diverse audiences of U.S. Air Force and international military and civilian professionals. From 40 Air Force general officers and senior civilian executives to 300 U.S. and International acquisition professionals to 250 junior training managers from around the world – Tim Gard's complete mastery of professional speaking and public presentations has earned repeated requests for "more." He brings a warmth and honesty to every audience in every forum – from "breaking the ice" on the first day before a conference of hundreds of people – to remotivating senior leaders in the last session of a long conference – Tim is the one we chose to boost our morale and provide everyone with a new vision to take with them. From planning to execution – Mr. Tim Gard and the entire Comic Visions team are total professionals absolutely the best in the business!

On behalf of hundreds of Air Force Acquisition Workforce Members over the last four years – please accept our thanks for your totally unique and refreshingly high-energy comic vision presentation!
