KEYNOTE Developing a Comic Vision

Tim's 45 minute to 3 hour Keynote Speech is as funny as it is inspiring and practical. Audiences experience how anyone can develop and apply their Comic Vision® to become more resourceful and resilient at work and in their personal lives. Tim's rejuvenating and immediately applicable message teaches audiences how to increase morale while enhancing productivity and everyday enthusiasm in three short, and easy to adopt, steps. His unique, yet practical, ideas help people diffuse routine or extreme stress by insulating themselves against negativity. He shows audiences how to "refresh and renew" themselves daily by using and sharing his techniques. His terrifically funny, unique stories (and of course, extraordinary visual props) make this keynote address a hilarious way to start or close your meeting. Tim custom tailors this program for your event, and he doesn't make light of your serious situations, but rather, shines a light on them to reveal previously unseen possibilities.

"Listen to a comedian and laugh for the moment, or learn to use your Comic Vision® and laugh the rest of your life."

WORKSHOPS / BREAKOUT SESSIONS Change The Game

Life is a game; business is a game; travel is a game, literally everything is a game that usually involves winners, losers and spectators. Discover how to change any game to your advantage as you encounter the situational stressors, toxic people and various challenges inherent to our lives.

Just one person can "Change the Game" for all players by simply applying easy to understand and hard to forget concepts that champions have been utilizing for years in sports, business and life in general. A basic shift in perspective and approach can immediately change the playing experience for everyone in a multitude of real, tangible and valuable ways. Using the game of marbles as a demonstrative example metaphor, Tim proves that tasks or challenges that have become unnecessarily overly-complicated can become surprisingly uncomplicated – FAST

Tim personally consults with event coordinators prior to, and after, each event to ensure every participant receives a bag of marbles to take home as a reminder keepsake, to aid in the implementation of "Change the Game" tools, tactics, strategies, and ingrain the newly developed philosophy for overcoming what was previously perceived as impossible or unrealistic.

"We all smile and laugh in the same language regardless of our differences."

Leadership: The Tao of Humor

This workshop continues the Comic Vision™ "good, clean humor philosophy", and provides deeper insights into Tim's humor plan and guidelines that are crucial to harnessing and applying humor as a business skill.

Almost everyone will agree that humor can have a positive impact at work. As a strategic skill, it can act as a positive factor in communication, morale, and stress reduction. However, if misused, it can have an equally negative effect.

In this laughter-filled Leadership Program, you'll discover how humor can help you powerfully deal with the challenges of an ever-changing workplace. You'll explore how to steer clear of the negative or controversial humor that may become a source of problems and complaints by concentrating on humor that enhances (and never diminishes) work place culture to improve morale and customer service.
